THE PROBLEM

Spread across chats

Questions, consignments and after-sales issues live in separate chat threads.

No visibility

Customers can't see where their consignment or request stands.

Hard To Measure

A&J can't easily count inquiries, top questions or reply speed.

What the Website Lacks

No consign or sell form

The Consign and Sell pages ask visitors to fill out a form, but there isn't one.

No instant answers or tickets

No chat assistant, no status tracking and no support ticket form.

Saved items get lost

The wish list lives in one browser, and there are no new-arrival alerts.

Details don't match

Showroom location, card fee, shipping and return rules differ between pages.

Why A&J Luxury Needs a Mobile App

01. Open the shop in one tap from your home screen

02. Get alerts for new arrivals and request updates

03. Snap photos of items to sell or consign in the app

04. Stay signed in, with your saved items on any device

05. Still works with the website you already use

Buying and Selling in One App

BUYING

- Find it fast: search or filter by brand, category, condition, and price
- See every detail: zoom into photos to check the condition and any flaws
- Save your favorites: get alerts when new pieces arrive
- Ask to buy: pick how you'll pay (like GCash) and get it delivered or picked up

SELLING & CONSIGNING

- Sell: A&J buys your piece right away
- Consign: A&J sells it for you, then pays you
- Send your item: fill in the details and add photos (front, back, serial)
- Track it: follow every step from Submitted to Paid out using your reference number

PROJECT SCOPE

Our team will build the app, from design to a working Android app (APK) handed over to A&J

Customers can browse, save favorites, get alerts and ask to buy

A support ticket system for after-sales and app concerns

Your products show up in the app automatically (needs your store access)

Owners can send sell or consign requests and track their progress

A chatbot that answers common questions and passes harder ones to your staff

PROJECT LIMITATIONS

No in-app payment; your team confirms the item and collects payment

Available on Android only; no iOS version

The app doesn't check if items are authentic; your staff handles this

No live chat with staff; the chatbot and support tickets cover customer questions

Consignment Tracker	Send your item details step by step, then track its status from Submitted to Paid out.
Support Tickets	Report an order or app problem and get a reference number, status updates, and replies from staff.
Zoomable Photos	Swipe through photos and zoom in to check the condition and any flaws up close.
Admin Reports	Your team sees sales, tickets, consignments and the most-asked questions, with reports you can download as CSV or PDF.

BENEFITS FOR A&J LUXURY

Fewer repeated questions

The chatbot answers common questions any time of day, so your team can focus on selling.

Easier to keep track

Every consignment and after-sales request has its own reference number and date, so nothing gets lost in chats.

Know what's working

See your sales, the questions customers ask most, and how fast your team replies, all in one place.

Customers keep coming back

Saved items and new-arrival alerts bring buyers back before one-of-a-kind pieces are gone.

Possible Risks and Challenges

Cost and upkeep

The app needs regular updates and fixes. Its items must also match the website, so the same piece isn't sold twice.

Getting customers to download it

Customers have to choose to install the app, so alerts, tracking and quick answers need to be worth it for them.

Staff still needed

Your team still needs to reply to support tickets and handle questions the chatbot passes on.

Keeping data safe

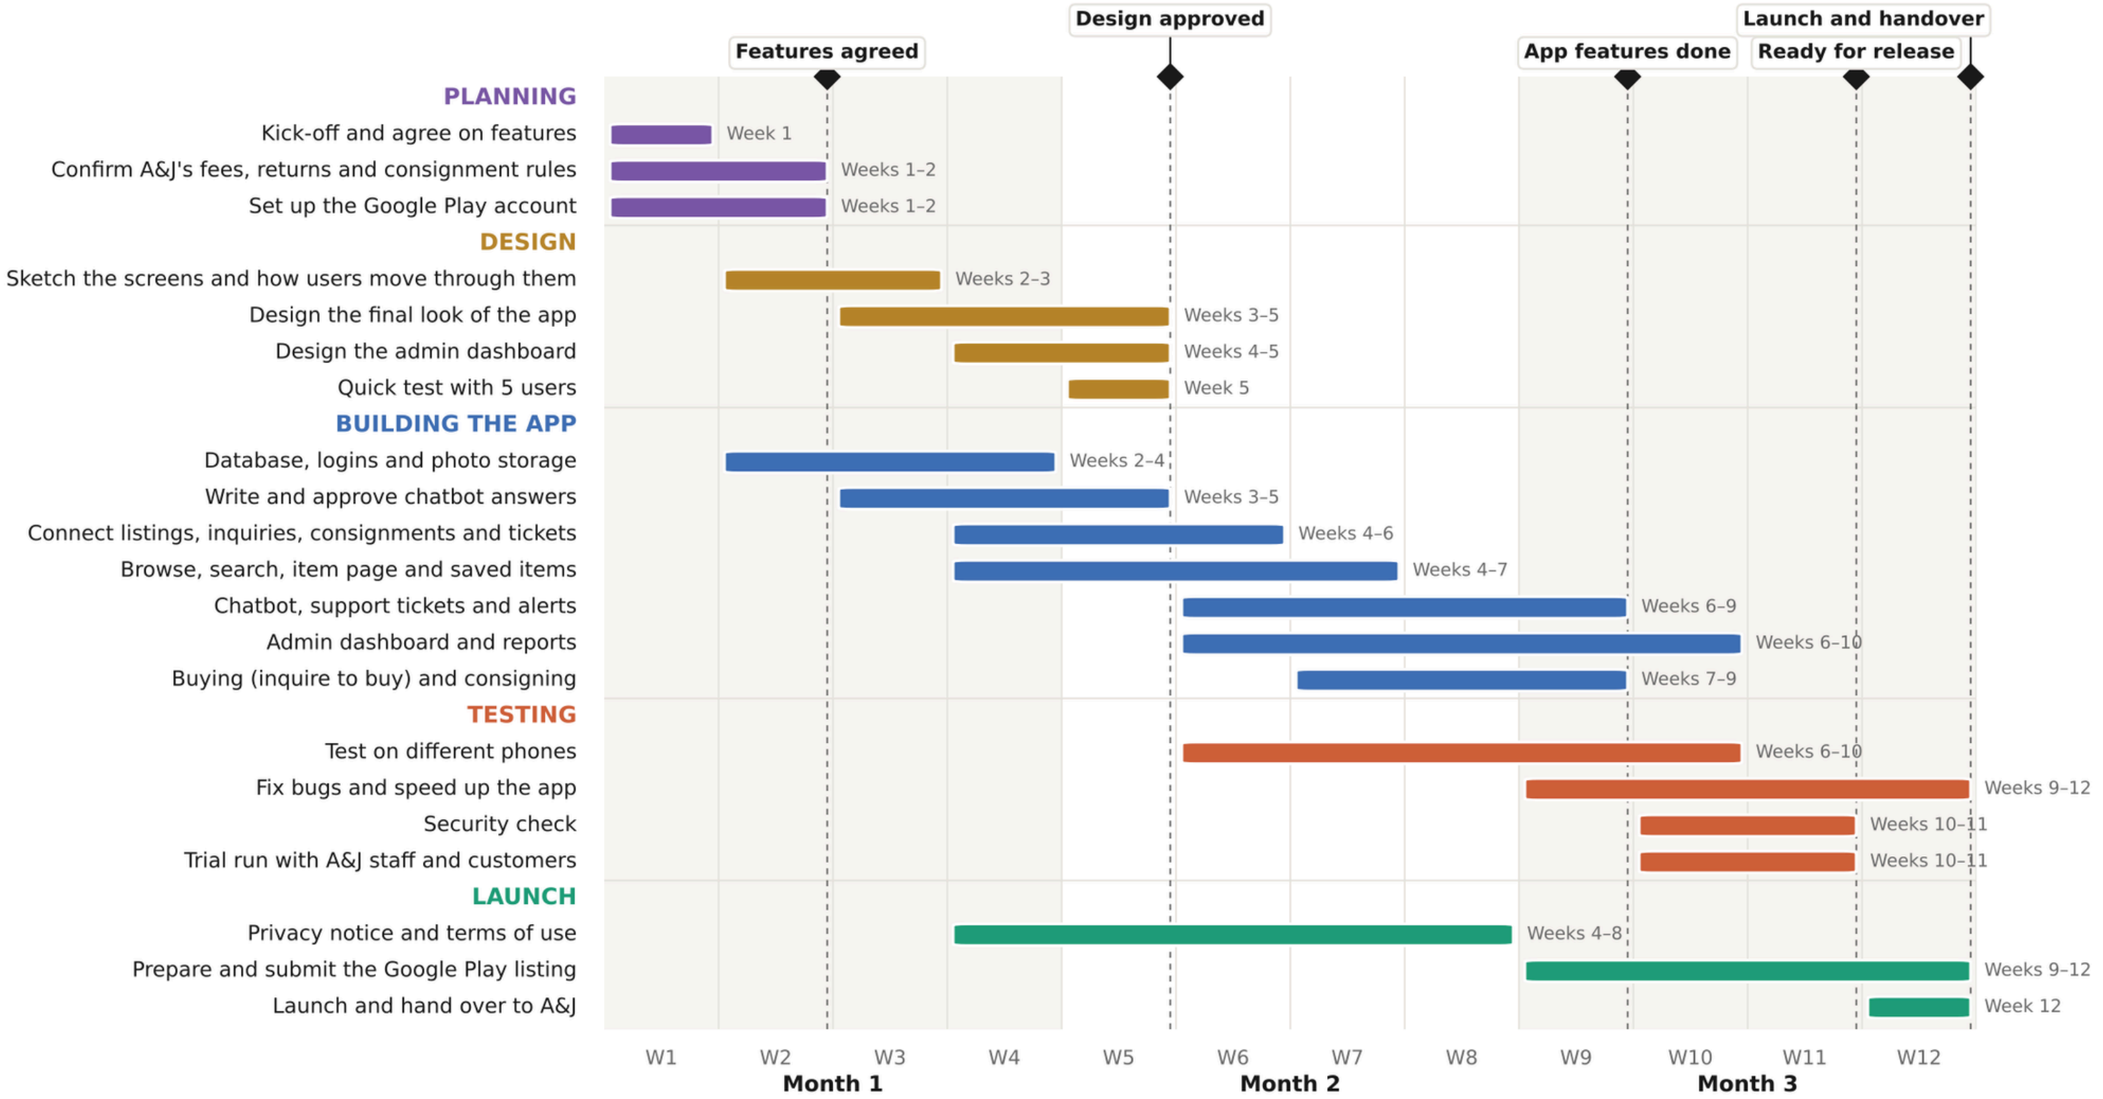

Customer and consignor information must be protected under the Data Privacy Act of 2012 (RA 10173).

Expected Costs to Run the App

Item	Service	Estimated cost
Database, login, photo storage	Supabase	~₱1,500 – ₱2,000/month
Backend (Node/Express API)	Render or Railway	~₱300 – ₱500/month
Push notifications (alerts)	Firebase Cloud Messaging	Free
Google Play developer account	Google	~₱1,600 one-time
Monthly total		~₱2,000 – ₱2,500/month
